

Michael spent a number of years not apologizing and now lives in Los Angeles.

But he enjoyed writing a play most of all, because it is about his friends, family, and himself.

1 - ... And then she says how is pegging, bicycle pegging, are you riding your bike on the freeway, I don't know, I want to stop digging at people but the event of

is unforgettable, perhaps pegging is pegging and a bicycle is not all four pegs, bi-cupid, I apologize by walking away from the small can of coke she is standing by, but what is an apology if they keep following me with a smile, like smile or it is not irresistible, seriously, it is almost as if that groupie is sat on the bench, I am sad to not try to say all their names cause I only know 4 of them right to left, and the 5 name of the groupie on the leftist, I forgive you 5 name for not trying to spell your name backwards and stutter because I don't actually know your name, so then ill struggle and fumble but then learn your name as you will most likely probably first fill in your name cause you know your name, missing the last name, crisis, I apologize for taking the log engraved with your name Mom, I know you kept wanting the log in the corner of our living room, and maybe moved it to the family room but I am never there so I am mostly sorry because of that I apologize, I took the Mom log for specific reasons and they are none of your business but actually business because I wanted to put the log in front of a forest even though the log is sanded and will not match the other trees around us because the Mom log is bark-less and sanded, I hope to not stay silent, what do I do, also please stop hitting people by labeling the animals on their jumper, too literal, too unexpected, to likely to lead to conversation, feels like cheating, so I apologize for being at least not a boring person, right, yeah, I cannot see a damn thing, yes that is a quiet place to lie down, but don't leave tally marks every time I lie there, shrimp lie down in the bag, why are you about to pee in the backseat of the shrimp chip bag, they cannot understand me, please

I say my head needs circulation, buttons are below the head, I am sorry to ask how the proportions of your black hoodie as a compliment, that's asking for attention, vain is post-pain, Clorox the vanity, wipe the mirror clean, not so I can look at myself, but look at someone else in the reflection in the back of the room being seen in the mirror to look at them, putting attention at them at myself never, the boss took down the peeing post it note on the leaving work wall, shitty person, I left the car but inside drove up without notice, with them, for educational purposes, but sparked another idea to learn about someone's music taste and flirt with them because flirting with someone is a sure-fire way to get inside them, be good friends, that's what that J&M said, but the traffic is amazing, I say to ask you if you whipped in 4 min, like last time 15 min, does your backup camera help, bagged that's in the bag, polo for the realizing not understanding, do I keep being sarcastic voice, why do I think it is funny to do sarcastic voice but makes other people less likely to listen to it, I am least boring, so if I am boring then maybe I wont pee everywhere, behind the gas station, the fence outside the set, the backyard, the parks, gold is not as it seems, #beautiful, wiggling, do you know how to dance in front of people, a nuisance, pest like, do you know how to move like this, sorry, this matt isn't available because of the current state of the fucked up world, why does a surf-board shaper have an abused, like I just want to ride the wave, currently status is infinite resource, so what do I have to loose, no longer do I need those trainers after black forest ham but let I get the Velcro ones after the sausage, you are *getting off mattress of floor to drink water killing me, spending too much time staying hydrated, how many ounces did you get today, such a flat question, like no shit water doesn't rise in the bottle, be quiet while exercising lifting my abbs and core on the balcony, it doesn't matter so stop, but the shit cycle needs to go, only 10 min before I eat cheerio's and the apex is right, prepared clothes double checked last night they were clean clothes, throwing onto the tiles next to plunger, cold water, let it happen, chill out, shower beer, cringe, can't help it, do you move like this, let me be, write a letter to uncle using the backside of the letter of the ford car recall, state the removal or debadging of the car, poles can be sorry too, if they are too bright I can use a flashlight to light to pull reflective yellow and switch that to another light when I turn off the reflective yellow light and shine the another light on the ceramic baquette, like who goes to Paris to buy a ceramic baguette next to the snow globe of the Eiffel tower, monuments are marked by 10 years at least, No, but rules are rules, you got rules, but kirsch said no rules, and works in the steam plastic room, wrapping plastic vacuum tube thing so we cannot stain the furniture cause the other sublet jumps away from the vacuum tube thing, actually, the cheerio's on the floor are a mess, so that's what kirsch is afraid of, pointing out the details out in life, call me detailed oriented, everything is about me, not that plunger, not that light, light under my ass, great, that went well cause to be able to walk out the door without a key in doorknob is pain free, they are lame, so why do I have to be down to be down with them, sad, exciting, its not so transactional, seeking the opportunity to leave, I promise not to play Norah Jones even though you keep electronic mailing what's that one song, talking so loud, it hurts, starting the monk life, sit on plastic boxes filled with slime for the novelty of it, entertain the kids, being icebreakers by sitting on the plastic boxes filled with slime on the floor, to level below, don't fear them, listen to them, respect me as I am above, all, and started to leave the food aired out too early, not to pee, but breath, like going home to get more oxygen off the tap, shower tap, not complying, I am full of no, stop saying no Mom says, picturing Y alphabet and then Norah Jones and then Elmo but I know already all of their names because desktop wallpapers save every time I turn on and off the lappy, ok nice, confirmation bias, fuck year, that's emotional, jump, ok follow, the camp parents hate me, apparently broke the kids wrist, I was just jumping off the ladder, nobody told me about the ground relative to the other kids, who jumps thinking about someone else jumping next to them, sorry for running into the shelf, fainting under the bed, hiding in trashcans, pink bedroom, carrying the snake, biking past the neighbourhood limit, not being Swiss and defenceless, on the fence, uttered destruction, same joke, what are you 12, cover up On me many thanks to Friends, Family, Kap,
